Love, Honour, Oneness

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN LOCAL, MARIA PARKINSON is a respected professional counsellor and author. Through her work as an intuitive consultant and life coach at The Mystic Rose in Fremantle, Maria was compelled to write her book, Love, Honour, Oneness to assist people in following their higher purpose and to transform negative situations into positive opportunities.

Author available for interview | Book reviews welcome

The book offers practical and spiritual guidance on how to change one's perception of feeling like a victim, living with negativity and misery into a positive happier way of life. The book seeks to help those struggling with relationships and other problems where there seems no way out, by confronting their thinking and rigid beliefs. It teaches the positive ways to create connection, fulfilment and meaning with easy to understand techniques.

This book is an invaluable, inspirational and empowering roadmap for living a joyful, fulfilling and meaningful life. Embracing the philosophy that everything in life is positive, no matter its outward appearance, it teaches how to unravel the positive messages hidden within everyday situations, challenges and personal interactions, transcend negativity and eliminate misperceptions that keep you separated from your joy. A holistic guide and reference book you will want to keep by your side as it provides practical and spiritual wisdom, tools and strategies to help you over crises and challenges, get you back on track when you feel stuck and move forward in your life. You will be inspired, nurtured and coached to clarify and walk your rightful path on this earth; to find the fulfilment you are seeking and then become a shining light and inspiration for others who are seeking answers.
